

February 13, 2018

Title: Environmental Scientist-Staff (Wetland Restoration Specialist)

Status: Regular-Full Time

Location: 1811 Racine Street, Menasha, WI

Description: Davel Engineering is seeking a qualified individual to assist our environmental department with wetland restoration, wetland permitting, performing wetland delineations, seasonal saturation/ground water determinations, Soil & Site Evaluations, and Geographical Information Systems (GIS).

Responsibilities:

- Work together as a team
- Communicate effectively with clients and prospective clients
- Inspect and treat invasive species in accordance with restoration plans
- Generate wetland restoration and mitigation plans
- Lead a wetland delineation crew
- Collect vegetation, soils, hydrology data, and evaluate
- Identify seasonal saturation by conducting morphological evaluations for purposes of conducting Soil & Site Evaluations for stormwater management purposes or septic systems
- Attend project meetings
- Complete state, federal and local permit applications
- Survey wetlands with Survey or GIS grade survey equipment
- Ability to use and operate GIS
- Conduct soil testing (Compaction, sieve analysis, plasticity, etc.)

Requirements: Bachelor degree or higher in a related field.

- 2+ years of wetland restoration experience
- GIS knowledge
- Knowledge of NC/NE Regional Supplement to the 87 Manual
- Strong vegetation identification skills
- Ability to work under strenuous and variable weather conditions.
- Ability to become a Certified Soil Tester and Pesticide Applicator

Contact: Travis A. Stuck, Director of Environmental Operations
travis@davel.pro
920-560-6567